HOW THE AGENCY SUPPORT PROGRAM (ASP) HELPS AGENTS GAIN A NEW COMPETITIVE EDGE AGAINST INTERNET INSURANCE SALES

The “brick and mortar” insurance agency business model is under attack from Internet insurance competition. In the combined auto and homeowners insurance market, State Farm is still number one, followed by Progressive and Geico, who have disrupted the traditional agency model with more than $70 billion in sales.

The impact has been most powerfully with auto insurance but homeowners coverage is in the sites of the Internet giants, with Progressive already at number 3 in homeowners coverage, behind State Farm and Allstate. Internet insurance is here to stay and will more and more become the major competition for traditional insurance agencies. Commercial agents/brokers are not immune either, as online companies are now offering simple business owner’s policies (BOPs) online. You don’t have to be a weatherman to see which way the wind is blowing. The insurance agency business model has been plagued by commoditization and is therefore a highly price-driven business. Remember the following maxim, “When people perceive no other value, they always buy on price.” Unless you want sales results to be predicated on whether your carriers have the lowest price at a given point in time, forward-thinking agents will be looking for value-added differentiators to enhance their value proposition to their prospects and clients. That’s where the ASP can help! The success of Progressive and Geico make it clear that consumers value real-live agents less and less at the time of policy purchase. So, when do they value you? When they need you the most—when they have a loss! If you’re giving your valuable clients an 800 number and a “good luck” when they suffer a loss, you’re missing out on a tremendous marketing opportunity. With our Agency Support Program, you can easily be a part of a claims process that offers your policyholders unmatched levels of service—the kind of service policyholders expect but rarely get. And the kind of service that will powerfully differentiate you from the Internet insurers. After all, why would people buy from you if not because they have an expectation of higher levels of service?

HOW THE ASP HELPS STRENGTHEN YOUR VALUE PROPOSITION

- The Agency Support Program (ASP) provides a crucial differentiator allowing agencies to be different and better than Internet insurance providers as well as "Main St." competitors. As part of the ASP, you will be there for their policyholders when they need you the most (when they have a loss) delivering a level of personal, "Above and Beyond" service that is unheard of in insurance restoration. This service creates Cheerleaders that stay insureds and act as unpaid salespeople, singing your praises far and wide to family, friends, and colleagues.
- In terms of commercial lines, this value proposition is enhanced even further with the agency being able to offer the added value of being there for their clients "before, during and after" with a Property Guardian Program delivered on behalf of your agency at no charge by our company.
- The ASP serves as a foundation for a powerful revised agency value proposition that speaks to key policyholder needs and motives that are more important to quality clients than simply the lowest price. We can provide resource materials to help you explore enhancing your current marketing strategy.
- Some restoration contractor is going to respond to the insured's loss. Doesn't it make sense to be sure that it is one that has your best interests at heart and who will provide all kinds of unique, value-added services to enhance your relationship with your insureds? With the ASP, we become an extension of your agency.
- Marketing communications tools are provided in the form of brochures (personal lines and commercial renewal brochure, digital brochure, commercial referral flyer) to help agents communicate the value of the ASP to both personal lines and commercial policyholders and prospects.
- Agency Enrichment Program: This program is designed to help referral partner agencies assist their team with professional development. How well does their team understand the claims process from the customer's perspective? How can they deliver better customer service? How can they increase sales with real-life front-line experiences? This program is designed to address all these issues and much more.

The Agency Support Program can add powerful marketing and sales tools to your selling efforts at no cost to you! To learn about all the details of the ASP, contact:
