HOW THE AGENCY SUPPORT PROGRAM (ASP) HELPS AGENTS INCREASE CONTINGENCY BONUSES

Depending on your book of business, contingency bonuses can be an important element of total compensation. Typically, such bonuses are based on loss ratios, policy retention rates, premium growth and other factors. The Agency Support Program (ASP) can help increase policyholder retention, helps generate new coverage from existing clients as well as promotes word-of-mouth referrals for new business and increases your agency's goodwill in the marketplace.

HOW THE ASP HELPS REDUCE COSTS AND THEREFORE LOWER LOSS RATIOS

- We are a mitigation focused, full-service restorer. This means we try to restore losses with as little demolition and reconstruction as possible which means jobs get done faster and at lower cost, which lowers loss ratios and conserves policy limits. (It also makes for happier policyholders and happier policyholders become Cheerleaders!)
- We provide a free, enhanced, high-tech inspection when losses occur. We will act as your eyes and ears on the job, providing information that will help you and the insured decide whether a loss is claim-worthy or not. This will prevent unnecessary claims from being filed.
- When you become a part of our ASP, you will really know and will have pre-vetted our company as the restorer you're referring. You'll know your policyholders are working with a legitimate, expert, insured and certified restorer—that is accountable to you as well as your customer! You can have confidence that we will do what is necessary, nothing more and nothing less to return them to preloss condition.
- We also practice what we call "Transparent Accountability". This means we provide the highest levels of communication and collect comprehensive documentation in near real time to prove that the job was done right.
- When we provide a free Property Guardian Program for your commercial clients, this pre-disaster information will allow us to have advanced knowledge about the property, allowing us to respond more effectively as we are able to hit the ground running. This substantially reduces severity and therefore, the cost of the claim as well as the time to completion, which reduces business interruption payments.

Our goal is to work together in a strategic relationship with you. We want to grow our business by helping you protect and grow your business. Because we are looking to have a long-term relationship with our Agency Support Program members, we take the long view and want to do what is best for your agency. Unlike "cut and gut" restorers that try to turn losses into the biggest job possible, we feel that the triple win (you, your policyholders and our company) is the best outcome.
