HOW THE AGENCY SUPPORT PROGRAM (ASP) DELIVERS ABOVE & BEYOND CUSTOMER SERVICE

Disaster restoration is kind of like an unplanned remodeling project that the insured has no time to plan for and is disruptive, scary and aggravating. These kinds of projects are delicate customer service situations to say the least!

In our experience, if a claim is going to "go South" it will largely be because of poor communication. We focus on the highest levels of communication because unhappy policyholders switch agents and instead of becoming Cheerleaders helping to build your business by word-of-mouth referrals, instead become Terrorists, doing just the opposite! Because we know that our service is a reflection on you, we have a fanatical focus on what we call "Above & Beyond" customer service, focusing on communication and documentation.

"ALWAYS INFORMED" COMMUNICATION

It is our policy to communicate with our clients based on the method and frequency they prefer. Many losses only take a few days to restore but others may take weeks or months. In these projects of longer duration, we will communicate with the policyholder daily, weekly, as needed by phone, text or email. We will also provide regular updates to your agency, so you know the exact status of the claim and have confidence knowing that we are "on it!" This also allows you to "touch" the client at the optimal times during the loss to magnify the customer service impact. There is no better time for agents to touch their insureds than during a loss!

WE COLLECT COMPREHENSIVE DOCUMENTATION IN NEAR-REAL TIME

In the insurance restoration world, if it isn't documented, it didn't happen. That's why we collect comprehensive documentation to tell the story of the claim. This way, any third-party can see what happened and exactly the steps that we took to restore the insured to pre-loss condition. This helps adjusters understand what was done and why and close the file more quickly and easily, reducing hassles for the policyholder.

A POWERFUL MOMENT OF TRUTH ON YOUR BEHALF

Because of the way we document the loss, we are able to offer the policyholder a Certificate of Professional Restoration once the job is complete. This documentation has two powerful benefits to your insureds. The first is that this documentation protects the value of their home when it comes time to sell. These types of losses have to be disclosed and when potential buyers see that the damage was restored by a licensed, certified, insured professional restoration contractor instead of "Chuck in a Truck" or Uncle Bob the do-it-yourselfer, this tends to make any reservations about going forward with a purchase go away. The second benefit is that this documentation reassures them about the health and safety of their family/occupants. And we make sure you get credit for this!
